

National “Slam the Scam” Day

Thursday, March 5, 2020

What is Slam the Scam?

The Inspector General of Social Security, Gail S. Ennis, has designated a National “Slam the Scam” Day to warn Americans about widespread phone scams where callers impersonate government officials, most often Social Security, to gain your trust and steal your money.

On Thursday, March 5 at 11 a.m. ET, we will be on Twitter with USA.gov, and at 7 p.m. on Facebook Live with Social Security, to answer your questions and deliver our key messages:

- HANG UP on phone scams
- TELL your friends and family

Let’s SLAM phone scams together!

What to Watch For

Social Security phone scammers may

- threaten arrest or legal action against you unless you pay a fine
- promise to increase your benefits or resolve identity theft if you pay a fee
- demand payment with retail gift cards, wire transfers, internet currency, or by mailing cash
- try to convince you by using spoofed caller ID numbers or officials’ real names, or by emailing fake documents

DO NOT BELIEVE THEM!

If you owe money to Social Security, the agency will mail you a letter with payment options and appeal rights. Social Security does not suspend Social Security numbers or demand secrecy from you, ever.
